Dear listeners,

Welcome to the final recital of the 2023 Summer Carillon Concert Series. The Yale University Guild of Carillonneurs would like to thank all the previous performers for sharing such wonderful music with New Haven. We would further like to thank the members and alumni of the Guild for taking time out of their busy summers to help the concerts run smoothly (Michael Gancz, Carl Geiselhart, Sarah Luckart, Daniel Lu, Zoe Pian, Eric Wang), as well as Ellen Dickinson for all she has done to support the Guild's operations over the summer. Finally, thank you to all our attendees for joining us this year. We are truly fortunate to have such dedicated listeners, and we hope to see you again in future summers!

Sincerely,

Lea Kim '24 and Peter Zhang '25, Yale Summer Carillonneurs of 2023

About the Yale University Guild of Carillonneurs

The Guild is the student organization responsible for ringing the bells in Harkness Tower. The Guild was founded in 1949 by Elliot H. Kone BR '49 as the Guild of Yale Bellringers. It was renamed in 1964, two years before the donation of 44 additional bells expanded the original chime to a 54-bell carillon.

About the Yale Memorial Carillon

A carillon is a musical instrument composed of at least 23 bells, tuned in chromatic sequence. It is played from a console that resembles a simple organ, with batons (for the hands) and pedals (for the feet). These keys move the clappers (metal ball) that strike and sound the bells, which remain stationary. Yale's 54-bell carillon was cast by John Taylor Bellfoundry in Loughborough, England. The instrument ranges from G (concert F-sharp) to C (concert B). The playing cabin is accessible by stairs and is located about halfway up Harkness Tower.

Yale Summer Carillonneurs of 2023

Lea Kim and Peter Zhang

Lea Kim is a rising senior at Yale College pursuing a B.S. in Chemistry and a B.A. in Music. She joined the Yale University Guild of Carillonneurs in 2019. She has studied classical violin with Professor Wendy Sharp at the Yale School of Music, and she has performed with several orchestral groups, including the Cleveland Orchestra Youth Orchestra and the Yale Symphony Orchestra. Outside of music, she works with the Malaker Lab at Yale to study glycoproteins using mass spectrometry.

Peter Zhang is a rising junior at Yale College pursuing a B.A. in Ethics, Politics, & Economics and Statistics & Data Science. He joined the Yale University Guild of Carillonneurs in 2021. Before the carillon, he played the piano under the British Columbia Conservatory of Music and holds an associate diploma from the London College of Music. Peter works at the Economic Growth Center, focusing on sustainable and equitable development in low- and middle-income countries.
