

got greek? tell us about it!

WE are looking for students with Greek ancestry interested in taking part in the first national online study exclusively for undergraduate and graduate students of Hellenic heritage. Whether you're first-, second-, third-, fourth- or even fifth-generation, we want to hear how you feel about being (even a little bit) Greek. We are currently interviewing and surveying students like you — including members of student groups on more than 40 campuses across the country — who are sharing their views and opinions on everything from music and food, to parents and professions, in this in-depth, national survey of Greek American / Greek / Hellenic students, sponsored by the Next Generation Initiative, an independent educational foundation.
