

English Language and Linguistics Research Seminars 2018/2019

Seminars are held in 309 Regent Street W1B 2HW, Room UG04 at 16:00.

Semester 2

Wednesday 30 January 2019

Martin Dewey, King's College London

Identification, self-understanding and professional expertise among 'non-native' English speaking teachers

Wednesday 13 February 2019

Emily Reed, University of Sheffield

A contact pragmatic study of address terms in Middle English and Anglo Norman

Wednesday 27 February 2019

Darren Paffey, University of Southampton

Visibility and 'making presence': Spanish in London's linguistic landscape

Wednesday 13 March 2019

Nahoko Mulvey, University of Stirling

Translanguaging practice and beliefs on 'Japaneseness' at Japanese as a heritage language (JHL) schools in England: linguistic ethnography exploring constructed ideologies and language practices

Wednesday 27 March 2019

Frazer Heritage, Lancaster University

Someone has grammatically passivized that digital woman: exploring women's agency in video games through corpus techniques