

Anthropology, University of Connecticut

Position ID: UConn-Anthropology-2014301 [#3650, 2014301]
Position Title: Connecticut State Archeologist – Assistant Extension Professor
Position Type: Non tenure-track faculty
Position Location: Storrs, Connecticut 06269, United States [map]
Subject Area: Anthropology / Archaeology
Appl Deadline: 2013/12/31* (posted 2013/11/20, listed until 2013/12/31)
Position Description: Apply

Position Summary

The Connecticut State Museum of Natural History and Archaeology Center, College of Liberal Arts & Sciences, University of Connecticut, Storrs, invites applications for a full-time State Archaeologist, as a non-tenure track faculty Assistant Extension Professor of Anthropology, who will be responsible for all aspects of the Office of State Archaeology work as mandated in the Connecticut state statutes, including cultural resource preservation, field and laboratory methods, research, public education and administrative services.

Responsibilities include: cultural resource management review of economic development proposals to assist municipal governments; responding to inquiries for information from resources, land managers and the general public; providing public education and training; state-wide site visits and field reviews; salvage archaeological field work and collection of archaeological materials; technical assistance to law enforcement agencies, including possible court testimonies; representation of the archaeological community to the electronic and print media; office management and other duties as assigned. The State Archaeologist will assist Museum staff in planning archaeological exhibits and programs; curate the university's Anthropological Collections; provide supervision to undergraduate and graduate students; and provide academic services in areas of expertise to the Anthropology Department.

Qualifications

Minimal Qualifications:

1. PhD in Anthropology or Archaeology at time of appointment, and at least 3 years relevant experience.
2. Background in Northeast North American Archaeology and have a working knowledge in Pre- and Post-Contact Archaeology.
3. Familiar with archaeological field and laboratory procedures and methods; should have experience working with artifacts and ethnographic materials.
4. Excellent interpersonal and communication skills and the ability to interact productively with a diverse group of colleagues; organizational and time-management skills.
5. Experience with cultural resource management and demonstrate knowledge of historic preservation law/legislation at the federal, state and local levels.

Preferred Qualifications:

1. Experience curating anthropological/archaeological collections.
2. Forensic archaeology background.
3. Experience working with Native American Tribes.

Appointment Terms

This is full-time 11-month position, with a one-year probationary period. Salary commensurate with qualifications and experience and based on University of Connecticut pay scales.

To Apply

Please submit a cover letter and curriculum vitae. Names of three referees (with email, phone number and mailing address) should be included in the cover letter. Address correspondence to Nicholas F. Bellantoni, Chair, State Archaeologist Search Committee, and include search number 2014301. Application deadline is December 31, 2013; position starting date is July 1, 2014.

The University of Connecticut is committed to building and supporting a multicultural and diverse community of students, faculty and staff. The diversity of students, faculty and staff continues to increase, as does the number of honors students, valedictorians and salutatorians who consistently make UConn their top choice. More than 100 research centers and institutes serve the University's teaching, research, diversity, and outreach missions, leading to UConn's ranking as one of the nation's top research universities. UConn's faculty and staff are the critical link to fostering and expanding our vibrant, multicultural and diverse University community. As an Affirmative Action/Equal Employment Opportunity employer, UConn encourages applications from women, veterans, people with disabilities and members of traditionally underrepresented populations.

Application Material Required:

Submit the following items online at this website:

- Cover Letter
- Curriculum Vitae

And anything else requested in the position description.

Further Info:

<http://www.anth.uconn.edu/>

Nicholas F. Bellantoni <nicholas.bellantoni@uconn.edu>

Department of Anthropology
University of Connecticut
354 Mansfield Road
Storrs, Connecticut 06269-1176